Boat Trips in the Algarve: Ria Formosa, Faro

Being a protected area since 1987, the Ria Formosa Natural Park is a paradise.

On this boat trip you will have the opportunity to discover the marshes, channels and islands of the Ria Formosa on a traditional fishing boat.

Itinerario ampliado

As you approach the islands you will have the opportunity to visit the clams and oyster farms, where the shell-fishing algarvian men work hard and where some of the most emblematic birds feed in this Natural Park.

You will then continue towards a small paradise of virgin sands and translucent waters where the lagoon meets the sea. Here we make a short stop so you can enjoy the most from this place where you can take a short walk through the beach, sun bath, take a dip in crystalline waters and marvel with the variety of shells that decorate the dune.

The trip back to Faro you will have the opportunity to enjoy an excellent view over the city.

Through the Channels of Ria Formosa. The tour starts in the Marina de Faro and/or from Portas do Mar from where we depart to visit one of the 7 Natural Wonders of Portugal.

Throughout the boat trip we explore the enormous biological wealth of the Ria Formosa navigating through secondary channels in the direction of one of the islands of this Natural Park.
