Ficha viaje

Adventure Programs in the Azores, São Miguel Island Canyoning

Walking along rivers and streams, rappelling, jumping and sliding to overcome natural obstacles, this is canyoning. In the Azores there are exceptional geo-morphological conditions for the practice of this sport. We only need to join water and mountains and spice it all up with the surrounding fauna and flora, adding a bit of geodiversity as well.

We are left with a paradise of valleys, streams, cliffs and rivers that promise a lot of adrenaline amid memorable scenery.

Itinerario ampliado

Brief description:

The inner part of São Miguel Island hides streams and waterfalls that one can enjoy through Canyoning. The activity begins with the distribution of equipment to the participants, followed by a 20 minutes short walk until the entry section of the canyon (stream), where we held the safety briefing.

Along the way there are waterfalls in which progression is done using the rappelling technique (highest waterfall is 8 meters), alternating with small walking sections and a more playful section (slides and a 4 meters jump).
